Discover the wide variety of meat products with Esro

At Esro, we understand that the foundation of every dish starts with the right ingredients. Whether you're producing flavourful burgers, traditional goulash, canned meals or high-quality soups, we can provide you with the best meat-based ingredients, including organic and Halal certification if needed.

We specialize in processing high-quality, fresh beef by-products to create our standard range of premium ingredients. These nutrient-rich cuts are naturally packed with vitamins, minerals, proteins, and healthy fats, making them an excellent choice for a balanced diet. By utilizing these often-overlooked parts, we deliver exceptional nutrition while contributing to a more sustainable and responsible food chain. In addition to our standard offering, we provide tailor-made solutions for a wide variety of markets and applications.

Our customer focus and dedication to quality make us the ideal partner for all your meat processing needs.
